Celebration of American Independence Day
July 2, 2014

Tata Consulting Engineers Ltd was honoured at the Indo-American Trade Excellence (IATE) Awards 2014 for Operational Excellence in Other Services by the Indo-American Chamber of Commerce , WIC. The award was given at a ceremony marking the celebration of the American Independence Day.

This award is an endorsement of the relationships that TCE has built over the decades. Tata Consulting Engineers has been able to provide great value to esteemed clients like GE, Proctor & Gamble, Corning, etc to name just a few. The value the company delivers comes in the form of innovative solutions that bring about huge cost savings in the projects undertaken, creative solutions that help clients realise their sustainability goals and by providing a scientific approach to managing health safety and the environment.

TCE's customers have time and again endorsed the company's commitment to the environment. The recognition by the Indo American Chamber of Commerce for TCE's contribution in Operational Excellence for US companies is an endorsement of what TCE truly believes in and strives to achieve. This is a moment of pride for TCE especially as the company is poised to expand its business interests in the region with a new service stream – Advanced Technologies.
